If we had strong power, there would have been no such deep-rooted enmity as June 25 and the land of the motherland would not have been stained with innocent blood, they said, adding that the historic question why we should be strong is answered by the Sunday of blood more than 70 years ago.

peace and everything on this land can be defended.
It is the bounden duty of our generation which brooks no further delay to settle accounts with the U.S. imperialists, the speakers stressed that the avengers on this land burning with the indomitable will to revenge the enemy will give merciless punishment and thorough eradication to the U.S. imperialists, the sworn enemy of the Korean people by resolute sacred war of revenge.
Then followed demonstrations.
The participants marched, shouting slogans of annihilating the U.S. imperialists and the group of traitors who are resorting to reckless war moves against the strong DPRK, not abandoning their daydream of stifling it even at this moment. -0-
