

Rangnang Museum in Pyongyang

The Rangnang Museum is located in Rangnang District in Pyongyang, the capital city of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

It consists of a history education section, a folk game section, a leisure area, etc.

On display there are thousands of pieces of typical historical relics and remains, which belong to Rangnang civilization created by the people in the late period of Ancient Joseon (early 30th century BC–108 BC) and onward.

The museum opens a window of opportunity for visitors to experience the old culture.

Rangnang Museum in Rangnang District, Pyongyang

Visitors experience the old culture through relics and remains.

